Our "Fashionista"

At least once this summer, you will go to an Angels baseball game. You'll enjoy either the players running around in tight pants, food for whatever craving you have, or a stadium filled with excited, handsome lads. How do you stand out from the crowd, yet still show your team spirit? Here are a few suggestions from the team store, and local designers and boutiques, that will keep you in tune with your inner Angels fan. BB
